Privacy Statement: The legal aid office processes personal data to perform its statutory duties as set out in Article 508(7) et seq. of the Belgian Judicial Code. Personal data are any data that can provide information about an identified or identifiable natural person. Exchange of data: Performing the statutory duties may involve the legal aid office sharing data, including personal data, with the Flemish Bar Council, the processor Diplad and any lawyer we appoint. This is done on a legal basis or under a cooperation agreement. Security of personal data: The legal aid office ensures appropriate security of the personal data it holds, in compliance with the applicable statutory requirements and guidelines. Retention period for personal data: The legal aid office does not keep personal data it processes longer than is necessary for the purpose of the data processing. The data will be kept no longer than seven years after the State pays the lawyer we appoint or, if a case file is refused, up to seven years after that refusal. Your privacy rights: You have the right to access your personal data (Article 15 GDPR). If you wish to know which of your personal data the legal aid office is processing, you can submit a written request for access. The legal aid office will process your request within one month. Depending on the complexity of the request, this period may be extended by two months. You will be notified of any such extension. If your data appear to be incorrect, incomplete, or irrelevant, you can submit an additional request to rectify or supplement your data (Article 16 GDPR). In a number of cases, you can request deletion or erasure. You can also request the restriction of, or object to, the processing of your data (Articles 18 and 21 GDPR). You can submit written requests to the Flemish Bar Council at dpo@ordevanvlaamsebalies.be with a copy of the front of your identity card.

This form is handed to the lawyer. The lawyer appends it to his/her application for secondary legal assistance and retains the original.
